Seahorse Campers Have Fun Giving Back

By Jean Perry

After seven weeks of fun, crafts, tennis lessons, sports, and games, campers at the Mattapoisett Recreation Seahorse Summer Explorers Camp have turned their attention to the community and how they can give back in the spirit of gratitude and goodwill. For the seventh week of camp, the kids have been counting their blessings and contemplating the lives of other children whose blessings are fewer, and taking action to make a difference.

Every day of the week, the young campers have been busy with different activities aimed at doing good in the community such as writing thank you letters to soldiers and sick kids in children's hospitals. They raised money with a lemonade stand at the Town Beach and also collected canned goods and supplies for birthday party kits with cake mix, frosting, candles, plates, utensils, and balloons for kids whose families might not be able to host a birthday party for their child. They also baked cookies and brought them to local law enforcement officers and emergency response employees to show their thanks for the work they do in protecting the town.

"They were really responsive to the giving back idea," said the camp's Assistant Supervisor Annie Galvin. "They realize now that not every kid gets to come to camp, and not every kid gets to celebrate their birthday."

The kids collected all the used books they could find, as well as gently used toys they no longer played with. They gathered ingredients to make dog treats and even made homemade doggie toys to give to local animal shelters.

"They brought in as much as they possibly could," said Galvin.

Camp Program Supervisor Kate Oleson said her idea for the campers to give back to the community was well received, and the kids were excited about it. This young age, Oleson said, is a good time to instill within the kids a sense of community and of paying it

"They love it. To be honest, I was really nervous at first they wouldn't really like the idea," said Oleson. "But they've had a really fun time doing it."

She said when she asked the kids if they wanted to give back to the community, it was a resounding 'yes!'

The kids themselves were eager to talk about which activity they enjoyed the most, and why.

Finn Kavanagh, 8, said his favorite part was putting together the birthday party packages.

"I wonder what they do on their birthday, and if they just sit there," said Kavanagh. He said he felt sad for the kids who do not have birthday parties and it felt good to be able to help them.

Liz Harrington, 9, had the most fun making the dog treats for the animal shelter.

"I liked putting the pumpkin in," said Harrington. "I have a dog, and I love dogs."

The lemonade stand was a big hit with the kids, holding up signs and chanting songs to passersby. Caitlin Collier, 10, was proud that the kids made the lemonade themselves.

"I liked telling the people that we are donating

"You get to see how many people really care, giving to charity, giving to people who don't have as much as you do," said Sylvia.

Illegal ATV Use Results in 'Vulnerable' Turtles Deaths

By Jean Perry

It was a gruesome scene at the rail trail in Marion by the Mattapoisett town line at the end of Industrial Drive. Several turtles – spotted and eastern box – lie upon the trail, their shells crushed flat, cracked open, with the guts of their bodies spilling out from every direction after being run over by an ATV.

Although the use of motorized vehicles is prohibited on the trail, someone is riding their ATV on the rail trail and has gone so far as to smash through and damage a metal gate at the beginning of the trail in order to gain access for the illegal ATV use. As a consequence, the Marion Open Space Acquisition Commission is installing another metal gate to keep the offending ATV rider(s) out and has also called on local law enforcement to put them on alert.

Yelena Sheynin, head steward for the Sippican Lands Trust and member of MOSAC, said the police departments of Marion and Mattapoisett have been notified of the need for increased surveillance of the site.

Sheynin described the carnage she happened upon last month as horrific, awful, and upsetting beyond belief.

Graphic photos of the turtles run over by ATVs show the disturbing nature of the injuries the turtles sustained, and Sheynin wondered if the ATV riders aimed specifically for the turtles because the turtles are large enough to be spotted from a distance where the ATV could safely avoid contact with the turtles. According to Sheynin, one turtle familiar to the area was 49 years old and laying her eggs at the time the ATV crushed her.

Sheynin said The Bay Club has also had issues with ATV riders, adding that she plans to meet with representatives from The Bay Club to hopefully coordinate efforts to either catch the culprits or increase vigilance in order to stop it.

"They know who is riding their ATVs, and plan to crack down on the illegal entry," said Sheynin.

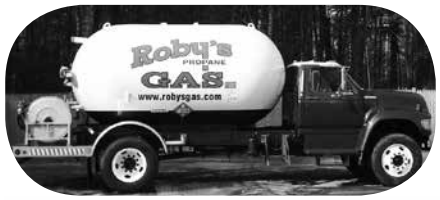

The Eastern box turtle is listed as a vulnerable species of "special concern" by the Massachusetts Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program (NHESP) and illegal to kill or capture. The NHESP identified ATV disturbance of nest sites as one of the reasons the turtle is under threat.

If you have any information about illegal ATV use at the Industrial Drive rail trail site, you are encouraged to notify either the Mattapoisett or Marion Police Department.

Plumb Library to Offer Telescope to Patrons

By Jean Perry

The Joseph H. Plumb Library has received a donation that is out of this world.

By the end of August, the Plumb Library will be the first library in Southeastern Massachusetts to offer its patrons the opportunity to check out a telescope in the same way one would check out a book, a DVD, or a My Own Back Yard (MOBY) backpack.

Donated by John Jawor, in honor of his parents and in memory of the Aldrich Astronomical Society, the Orion 4.5-inch Starblast telescope, valued at $350, will be available for checkout for a week at a time. The telescope kit will include three books on stars, instructions on how to use the telescope, a red LED headlamp, and a small red LED flashlight all packed into a totebag.

The tabletop telescope has been altered so the eyepiece will not fall out, and anything that can be removed or misplaced has been permanently affixed so it will not come off. Green dots will mark all the knobs and buttons the user will need to use to fine-tune the telescope and, essentially, as Plumb Library Director Gail Roberts put it, "They've done everything. It's got everything."

Roberts said she herself brought the telescope home recently to try it out in her own backyard. She was not disappointed.

"We saw the rings of Saturn, we saw the International Space Station, you can see quite a bit," said Roberts.

On Monday, August 24 at 7:30 pm, the library is hosting a presentation and throwing a "star party" where guests will learn about the telescope through a presentation conducted by Roberts, followed by a hands-on learning opportunity outside after the gathering. The library has invited Jawor to attend the event.

"We're very honored … and very excited about how we're going to catalog this and get it together," said Roberts. "Check it out, try it out, and bring it back."

It is that simple, said Roberts.

"It's a very cool thing," Roberts said. "We're very honored to have this – to be the first library in the area to have this."

Kennel License Revoked, Dogs to be Confiscated

Rochester Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

The notorious dog kennel that has been driving the North Avenue neighborhood nuts for the last two years had its kennel licenses revoked by the Rochester Board of Selectmen on August 9 after a long process of issuing conditions, appeals, complaints, inspections, and now criminal and imminent civil charges against Melinda and Liberal Teixeira have so far failed to curtail incessant dog barking at the 368 North Avenue property.

The Teixeiras were not present for their hearing, but about a half dozen neighbors were, expressing pessimism and exhaustion over the current situation and asking Town Counsel Blair Bailey if the dogs will finally be confiscated.

"I would, at this point, suggest to the board that there be a motion that the kennel license be revoked and I will proceed … with an action in civil court along with the criminal action," said Bailey.

The board voted in favor of the motion, meaning that as of August 9, the presence of dogs on the premises is now a violation. The police chief has filed criminal charges against the Teixeiras, and the hearing is scheduled for August 25 at the Wareham District Court.

Selectman Naida Parker turned to Bailey and asked him what she should do if the Teixeiras come into the Town Clerk's Office to individually license five dogs, to which Bailey replied, "[They have shown] their inability to be a good neighbor, and anything they want to do at that property would have to come back before the board."

Bailey said six non-criminal citations have been handed to the Teixeiras, each for $50, and court costs could be added to that should the matter move to court for collection. Bailey also said a lien can be placed on the property.

According to Bailey, an animal control officer inspected the property on August 3, but Bailey has received no report. He also thinks an additional inspection was performed since then, but, again, he has received no report. Bailey said the last inspection on which he did receive a report showed a total of six adult dogs and ten puppies at the kennel.

Once the kennel licenses were revoked, some neighbors wondered, what now? What does this all mean?

"What I'm trying to do is make sure I've done everything the bylaw tells me to do," said Bailey. Where it stands now, he said, there is no kennel license. The Teixeiras no longer have the right to have the dogs on the property. "I'm trying to make sure we follow the right path…. They have no license to operate anything at that property."

Currently, Bailey pointed out, there is no ACO for the Town of Rochester, so the Town has had to work with the ACOs of Fairhaven and Mattapoisett. He said Tuesday he would be contacting them to coordinate a time to arrive at the Teixeira property to physically remove the dogs and relocate them to the animal shelter in Lakeville.

"They've had all this time to move these dogs," said Board of Selectmen Chairman Richard Nunes.

"Enough is enough with this already."

Parker said there are several dog kennels in town, and the Teixeira kennel has been the only one with any complaints by abutters and neighbors.

"This is not acceptable," said Parker. "Most people who have these licenses respect the others…."

In the meantime, said Bailey, the citations and fines will continue until the dogs are confiscated.

"Now it's illegal to have them on the property," said Parker.

The board encouraged Bailey to stay on top of the citations and continue to remain in contact with the ACOs until the matter is resolved, once and for all.

"I have no intention of dropping it," said Bailey.

Neighbors present that night expressed pessimism, wondering if the ACO would be able to complete the task of physically removing the dogs since the Teixeiras are never home when the ACO or police chief comes knocking. One neighbor said the Teixeiras leave the property five minutes before the police cruiser arrives, and return five minutes after it leaves. One neighbor said she recently called the police because the dogs' barking woke her up at 4:45 am. Another called the police last Saturday when the dogs barked for an

In other matters, Bailey reported that Representative William Straus has been authorized by the selectmen to move forward with the introduction of special legislation to uphold the Annual Town Meeting from June 8, after it was discovered that there was no quorum.

Bailey said Straus and State Senator Michael Rodrigues are seeking guidance from the Attorney General's Office, and the matter will move forward once Bailey receives a response from the Attorney General Municipal Law Unit.

Also during the meeting, resident Greenwood "Woody" Hartley asked selectmen when they were going to bring the town's website into the 21st century. He suggested the town should post meeting schedules, agendas, minutes, and other important information on the website like neighboring towns already do.

Hartley said posting the meetings outside the Town Hall worked in the past when people had to walk by every day to buy their milk, "But that's not how we do business anymore," Hartley said.

"I agree with you wholeheartedly," said Town Administrator Michael McCue. McCue said the new assistant he hired to replace Veronica Lafreniere has experience in website maintenance and upkeep and will be taking on the responsibility, eventually.

McCue said that when he first started his work with the Town of Rochester roughly a year ago, there was no funding for the endeavor. Once the new assistant starts, McCue said the town will no longer have to outsource for website maintenance.

The next meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen is scheduled for August 24 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Five Minute Public Hearing

Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen

By Marilou Newell

Everything was in place at the Mattapoisett Town Hall for a lively discussion of electrical aggregation when the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen, along with Town Administrator Michael Gagne, went down the agenda at the August 11 meeting. But, when the board looked out into the audience, they found only one resident.

Regardless of the lack of attendees, Gagne told the one present and those viewing from home, "I think Gagne reported that 24 cities and towns were part of a buying group pursuing a lower electrical rate. Of those participating along with Mattapoisett are close neighbors Acushnet, Fairhaven, Marion, and New Bedford, along with 19 others representing 565,000 people comprising 275,000 households.

Gagne said the agreement had been posted to the Town's website for a month leading up to the public hearing, and he had received a few questions primarily asking if the program would be mandatory or voluntary. He replied to those inquires that the program is voluntary.

In an effort to provide full disclosure of the aggregation process, Gagne said informative videos would be produced and posted. He also said of the rate structure itself that a portion may be purchased from renewable energy sources such as sun and wind.

Selectman Paul Silva had a more direct question asking, "How much, and when?"

Gagne said there are several more steps in the form of government oversight involving the Department of Public Utilities and the Massachusetts Attorney General's office. Given that, Gagne speculated that it would take six months or longer to finalize a deal that is being handled by Good Energy, L.P.

The evening's agenda also included the recognition of several police officers for their outstanding service during a medical emergency.

Mattapoisett Police Chief Mary Lyons lauded the life saving efforts of Sergeant Jason King, Officer William Ilmail, Officer Dennis Tavares, and Officer Turner Ryan.

Previously recognized by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Public Safety and Security earlier in the year, they were officially awarded certificates of

Regarding a request from resident Brad Hathaway that the selectmen petition the state to conduct public hearings that will be held by the DEP on a Chapter 91 application for a private pier into Aucoot Cove, Silva said, "If we are going to have a public hearing, it should be in town."

Selectman Tyler McAllister echoed that sentiment. They voted to send a letter to the DEP requesting local hearings.

On the matter of filling two vacancies on the Conservation Commission, the board decided to invite all five candidates to their next meeting for more formal interviews. On August 10, the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission members had cast votes, selected their top three candidates, and presented those names to the board.

Jay Gould, DVM

I'm confused about rabies vaccinations for my dog and cat. I hear about 1 year, 2 year, and 3 year shots. What is the deal?

Talk to your vet about the specifics of their wellness programs but the Massachusetts law requires that dogs and cats be vaccinated for rabies by 6 months of age. A booster shot should follow in 9 to 12 months. The second shot is good for 3 years assuming that the vaccine is licensed for 3 years. If the second shot is even a day late over the 12 month period the vaccine is automatically only legal for 1 year. So don't delay after getting a reminder card saying your pet is due for shots.
The same law applies to cats but some people prefer 1 year rabies in cats as 3 year vaccines contain a substance that can cause cancer at the vaccination site in a very small percentage of cats. Again, talk to your vet about your preferences.

How does chiropractic care help seniors?

Researchers for Topics in Clinical Chiropractic found that for seniors age 75 and over, "Chiropractic users were less likely to have been hospitalized, less likely to have used a nursing home, more likely to report a better health status, more likely to exercise vigorously, and more likely to be mobile in the community. In addition, they were less likely to use prescription drugs."

Further supporting this improvement in quality of life, a study published in the Journal of Manipulative and Physiological Therapeutics found that Medicare patients who had regular chiropractic care "reported making only half the annual number of visits to medical providers compared with the national average for people age 65 years and over."

Often seniors are told that their pain is due to arthritis or aging, and that there isn't much that can be done. Often, chiropractic care can help.

Board Grants Waivers for Solar Farm

Rochester Planning Board

By Jean Perry

Solar energy developer Clean Energy Collective received approval for a number of waivers pertaining to stormwater management on August 11, after resubmitting the request to the Rochester Planning Board and thus satisfying the board's request for additional details beyond the initial request. After some discussion, the board granted the waivers, save for one of them regarding the decommissioning, removal, and surety of the project.

Bob Rogers of G.A.F. Engineering ran through the changes since the last Planning Board meeting when the board asked the developer to withdraw the waiver request without prejudice and resubmit it for review by the board's engineer, Ken Motta.

Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson said he spent nearly an hour talking with Motta about the waiver requests, to which Motta found no exception when it came to the stormwater management request. The decommissioning waiver request, however, is still an important matter for the board, said Johnson.

"We want to make sure that, if we felt … that the decommissioning bond needed to be used … in the event of abandonment, that we would be able to act alone and not have to have Marion sign on it or vice versa."

The solar farm, slated for the Clemishaw property that straddles the town line between Rochester and Marion, would predominantly be located in Marion along Perry's Lane, with the access to the site off Tucker Lane in Rochester. The Rochester Planning Board from the start insisted that whatever plans were filed with Marion were filed with Rochester as well, regardless of the fact that the solar farm site itself would be under Marion jurisdiction.

Issues of access and screening were and still are concerns of the Rochester Planning Board, which is why decommissioning remains an issue.

Johnson's solution was to alter the language in the decommission and surety agreement that would allow Rochester to act independently of Marion, which Clean Energy Collective's attorney John Serkey found agreeable, as did Project Manager for Clean Energy Collection, Jay Myrto.

Myrto said he found the board's request reasonable.

"As we did with the other solar facility in Rochester in the north … we'll probably hold a small bond or surety on the arborvitaes," said Johnson. "That's probably what we'll be looking for … replacement for two growing seasons."

Myrto said he found this request agreeable as well.

Eventually, a dollar amount for the surety will be assigned and an escrow agreement that is equally enforceable in both Rochester and Marion will be devised.

The board also went through the details of proposed vegetation and screening for the site with Rogers, eventually coming to an agreement on a slight change in the type of screening proposed.

Since the developer's last meeting with the Marion Planning Board on August 3, Rogers revised some details of the last plan submitted in Rochester, which addressed Rochester's concerns over screening.

The revised plan featured an additional row of 6-foot tall deer-resistant arborvitae with 8 feet of separation. In other areas around the perimeter of the site, the plan proposed a chain-link fence with hedge slats for screening in lieu of live vegetation.

Florindo asked where the shrubs would be located, since the last plan Rogers submitted, according to Florindo, featured both vegetation and hedge slat fencing for one area in question.

"[I thought] the preference of the board was vegetation," said Rogers. "The hedge fence slats are 20 bucks a [square] foot, so it is an expense to do both.

Rogers said, from the distance to any abutters' vantage point, either the hedge fence or the arborvitae would adequately shield the solar arrays. Both, said Rogers, are not necessary to screen the solar facility.

"I'm with Gary," said Johnson. "I thought at the last meeting it would be both. That was our intent."

Planning Board member John DeMaggio suggested Rogers stagger two rows of the arborvitaes instead of both the shrubs and the hedge fence, an idea Johnson seemed to warm up to. Johnson was vocally opposed to using just the hedge fencing. He argued that the hedge fencing was only warrantied for up to 10 years – the solar project lease is for two-and-a-half times that length of time, Johnson pointed out.

"What happens when this stuff (the hedge fencing) starts falling apart?" asked Johnson.

Myrto had no answer.

"Exactly," stated Johnson.

Myrto shifted toward the staggering of the arborvitaes instead of the hedge fencing.

"We're talking six- to seven-foot trees at planting time," said Myrto. "Would that be acceptable?"

Johnson looked to Florindo for a response.

"I think it's a reasonable compromise," Myrto said. He added that the arborvitae would go from 8-foot spacing to 6-foot spacing, which he said would be more economical than both fencing and shrubs. Myrto also added that the chain-link fence would be pushed back another 10 feet to accommodate the arborvitaes.

"Economically speaking," said Myrto, "this array keeps shrinking smaller than we really want it to be. But if I have to give up ten feet and it makes everybody happy, then OK."

Rogers seemed concerned about existing setback issues with Marion and how the 10-foot encroachment on the arrays would affect it, but Myrto said, even with the 10-foot change, the issue could still be worked out.

"I appreciate that," said Johnson. "That was a good solution."

that were approved that evening, Johnson pointed out that the drainage waivers Rogers requested pertained more to subdivision drainage issues, not solar energy facilities. Also, a traffic study waiver request was granted, since the matter does not apply to the solar farm.

"And Marion is overseeing everything, so we are safe," said Florindo.

In other business, the board briefly discussed its next upcoming meeting, which will be the first pubic hearing for the solar energy facility proposed for the Center of Rochester between New Bedford Road and Dexter Lane.

Johnson pointed out that two members of the board have been identified as abutters – Chris Silveira and Lee Carr – and, since the project requires a Special Permit, the vote to approve needs a supermajority. That supermajority will be the five remaining Planning Board members who can vote on the matter, meaning the project will need a positive vote from each of the five members to receive approval.

"So it's really imperative that we stay in touch … to make sure that we're all going to be there," said Johnson.

across a barrier beach and into Aucoot Cove. David Davignon of N. Douglas Schneider & Associates, representing the Dukers, provided the last pieces of information the commission requested – that all beaches shown on the plans were labeled as "barrier beaches" and that the pier may only be used for watercraft drafting 12-inches or less of water.

Before the hearing was opened for public comment, commission member Mike King said, "I am sympathetic to abutters, given the dynamic environment, but the design meets the wetlands act, so it can be permitted."

Commission member Peter Newton added, "The applicant addressed questions."

Chairman Bob Rogers looked into the audience and said, "We've been as methodical as you can on this project. In DEP's eyes, this is a project that can be permitted." He continued, "I'd like to see the issue of draft carried over to Chapter 91 plans." He gave a nod to objections raised by abutters during previous meetings on this application saying, "It will be unfortunate someday when this thing gets hit by a storm." He concluded, "We've got all the information we asked for; I'm prepared to close the public hearing."

Rogers then acknowledged abutter Jane Hathaway and gave her an opportunity to state her concerns.

"Twelve-inch draft can be a pretty big boat," said Hathaway. "We are concerned they were talking about small watercraft … I'd ask the Order of Conditions to specify the type of craft."

But Newton responded, "We are going beyond restrictions imposed on other piers in town."

Rogers shrugged and told Hathaway, "We are trying to do the best we can knowing we can't straight out deny this."

To the other commission members, Rogers said they would prepare a list of special conditions that they will provide to the applicants at the next meeting. Those special conditions will deal primarily with construction procedures and protections required to ensure eelgrass and beaches will not sustain damage during the building of the pier.

Brad Hathaway asked what the next steps might be for those objecting to the project.

Rogers replied that there is a 10-day period where objections based on the Wetlands Protection Act may be filed and that Hathaway should also approach the DEP. The Dukers still need to secure a Chapter 91 license from the DEP.

Moving on to other agenda items, the commissioners discussed how to go about closing actions and files now that conservation compliance has been received from Leisure Shores Marina. Rogers said he would discuss the matter with town counsel.

It came to light that Marylou Kelliher would also be leaving the Conservation Commission due to a change in her work schedule. With the departure of Tom Copps a few weeks ago, two seats are now open. Kelliher was thanked for her contributions to the ConCom then met with Edward Camara, another candidate for a seat on the commission. Camara was invited to share his interest in the opening and his background. He told the commissioners that he has been a resident for 40 years, has a background in biology and tidal zone ecology, had taught marine ecology, and that he might be able to provide a different viewpoint. To the Editor:

I was greatly moved to have received a phone call informing me that my deceased wife, Ruth, had been named the Mattapoisett recipient of this year's Wanderer Keel Award.

Ruth would often joke about never being considered a true "townie" because she was already 30 years old when making Mattapoisett her home in 1977. Despite this handicap, she quickly fell in love with her surroundings and became immersed in a variety of educational, environmental, and recreational activities in the town. This interest, involvement, and love of Mattapoisett continued for all of her remaining days.

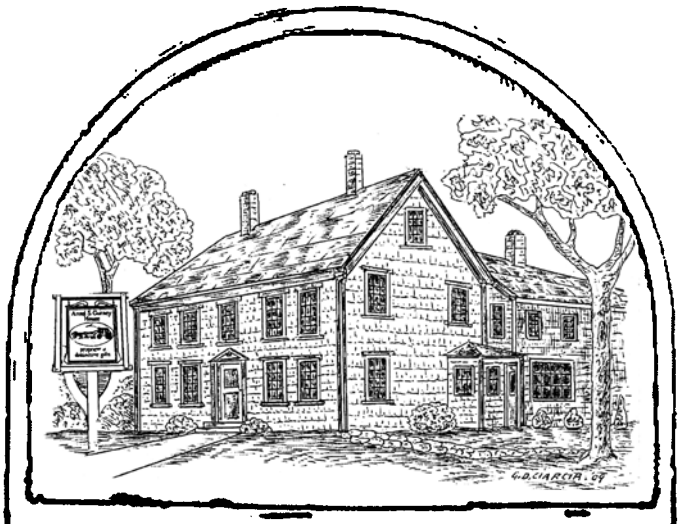

I'd like to extend my thanks and appreciation to those individuals who remembered Ruth's many contributions and nominated her for this award – a wonderful recognition of the most loving and compassionate person I have ever known.

Very truly,
Richard Bates, Mattapoisett

To the Editor:

It sounded like the famous lines from Charles Dickens' Oliver Twist. Mr. Bumble says, "Well? What do you want, boy?" Oliver holds up his bowl, his voice shaking. "If you please, sir, I … I want some more." That was food.

NEW PARTNERSHIP

COMING THIS FALL TO MARION / ROCHESTER YOUTH SOCCER

Marion / Rochester Youth Soccer is proud to announce a new partnership with Xara Soccer for the upcoming Fall season. Xara Soccer's unique approach to supporting youth soccer goes beyond simply providing uniforms it instead focuses on creating a better soccer experience for the families and changing the environment in which the game is played. This approach drives the thinking behind Xara's age specific programs (shown right). These programs and services will support MRYS' ongoing efforts to create the best soccer experience in the Marion Rochester area. MRYS will also utilize Evo Soccer Programs, a soccer training organization who will support the coaches.

MRYS

Developed with educators and child specialists, this program provides an age specific approach that focuses on the development of the "core motor" skills of the child. This program and its corresponding coaches curriculum engages parents in their child's experience both on and off the field.

meeting which addressed a request from the residents of the Village at Mattapoisett condominium cluster housing site. They asked that the contract they signed when purchasing units in the complex be amended so they will not have to pay for trash collection. They do pay town taxes.

The ABC Disposal contract with the town says "…all persons residing in the town shall be entitled … to public trash collection."

Your story in the August 6, 2015 edition of The Wanderer quotes Paul Osenkowski, a town resident, as "voicing his concerns that to allow this request would be heading towards a 'slippery slope,' noting the possibility that, maybe, in the future, they would be asking for snow plowing and road maintenance."

Maybe they'll ask for more!!!! Maybe ask for more? How dare they!

My family grew up in Mattapoisett. We moved here in 1967 for summers and in 1971, we became year-rounders. Five Wordens attended Old Rochester Regional High School where each received a fine education with caring faculty and dedicated staff. This summer, they were delighted to return and embrace the beauty of the bike path and the Nasketucket Shaw Farm Trail along our splendid coast.

Hundreds of somebodies asked for a great school and protected woodlands, coastal wetlands, and upland meadows. Mattapoisetters listen. A better school? Trails for walkers and bikers?

Some of us create slippery slopes, embrace them, and help others to share the ride!

brings a lump to my throat. Looking up at our most beautiful symbol of freedom, people singing with hands over hearts.

Looking out over our beautiful harbor on Wednesday evening, sailboats skimming over the water, full moon casting a magical beam, breeze sweet in a most soothing rhythm flowing with the orchestra.

How lucky we are!

Little children, joyous and carefree, circling the bandstand, parents and grandparents trying to keep up with the momentum. This is small town America at its very best.

Please support our Wednesday evening band concerts by your attendance; don't let this tradition fade away.

THIS IS small town America at its best, may God bless us all forever and ever and may it never end.

Should you find yourself on Hartley Road (we hope you are) and passing by, stop and take a few minutes to check out our little fair. See what your neighbors have been growing in their backyards or handcrafted through the winter. Competition among friends is always fun as they look to beating out one another and winning the blue ribbon for their entry. There will also be a baked-goods table with lots of goodies to purchase. demands of her acting career, the famous Myra Marlowe (played by Cynthia Latham) leases a house in the tiny New England hamlet of Beaver Haven and settles down to write her autobiography. She is successful in turning aside the offers pressed on her by her long-time agent (played by Jay Ryan), but dealing with her nosy, omnipresent neighbors (played by Suzie Kokkins, Suzy Taylor and Susan Sullivan) is a different matter. In an attempt to shoo them away, and gain some privacy, Myra invents a mad, homicidal sister – who is kept locked in an upstairs room, but who occasionally escapes long enough to scare off uninvited visitors. The ruse works well, at first, but complications result when the local handyman (played by Thom O'Shaughnessy) develops an affection for "Sister Sadie" (really Myra in a fright wig) and the nosy lady neighbors decide it is their Christian duty to save the poor demented Sadie's soul. In desperation, Myra announces that her imaginary sibling has suddenly gone off to Boston – which brings on the sheriff (played by Mark Letourneau) and the suspicion of murder! Needless to say, all is straightened out in the end, but the uproarious doings will keep audiences laughing right up to the final curtain, and then some.

This play is the perfect evening out in the air-conditioned theater at the Marion Art Center. Get a group of four together and reserve a cabaret table! Tickets are $12.50 for MAC members and $15 for general admission. Guests are invited to bring their own refreshments. Cabaret tables are available for reserved parties of four or more.

Don't miss this show! Reservations are highly recommended; email marionartcenter@verizon.net. In the subject line of the email, please type "A Bad Year For Tomatoes." In the body of the email, please include your full name, your telephone number for confirmation, the date you will be attending and how many tickets you need. We will send a confirmation email. Or call 508-748-1266 and leave a message with your name, phone number, the number of tickets needed and the date you are coming.

The Marion Art Center is located at 80 Pleasant Street in Marion.

American Travelers on the Nile

Noted art historian Andrew Oliver will present a lecture based on his recently published book American Travelers on the Nile: Early U.S. Visitors to Egypt, 1774-1839 at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library on Sunday, August 16 at 5:30 pm. A reception and book signing will follow.

Andrew Oliver's talk draws on unpublished letters, diaries and long-neglected newspaper accounts of the early American experience in Egypt and the Mediterranean world. His research enhances our understanding of travel in the Middle East for Americans during this period.

Andrew Oliver, living in Washington, D.C., has been a museum administrator and was also director of Museum Programs at the National Endowment for the Arts from 1982 to 1994. Earlier in his career, he was a curator in the Greek and Roman Department of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He is a former summer resident of Mattapoisett.

The program is part of The Purrington Lecture Series presented by the Mattapoisett Library Trust, a nonprofit organization that supports the Mattapoisett Free Public Library throughout the year by providing programs and other funds for needed equipment and furnishings.

The public is invited to attend. Please make a reservation by calling the library at 508-758-4171 or by emailing mfpl@sailsinc.org.

Meet the Author: Larry DiCara

On Friday, August 14, 7:00 pm at the Marion Music Hall, the Elizabeth Taber Library is hosting an author talk with Lawrence DiCara, former Boston City Council President and part-time Marion resident. Mr. DiCara will be signing and discussing his book, Turmoil and Transition in Boston: a Political Memoir from the Busing Era. Copies of the book will be available for purchase (cash or check only, please).

Mr. DiCara's book, Turmoil and Transition in Boston, offers insights into his personal and political story as the youngest person ever elected to the Boston City Council. Mr. DiCara's story is intimately woven into the fate of his hometown of Boston. Then a federal court order mandating busing to achieve racial integration in the public schools ripped apart the city and changed the course of history.

For more information, please contact the Elizabeth Taber Library at 508-748-1252.

August Programs at Plumb Library

Thanks to the Aldrich Astronomical Society and Mr. John T. Jawor, the Plumb Library will be offering the Orion 4.5 inch Starblast telescope for circulation. Families will be able to check out the telescope, plus three books on finding stars, the instructions for use, a red LED headlamp, and a small red LED flashlight. All of this, contained in a tote, can be checked out for one week. The telescope works best on a sturdy table, such as a picnic table or steady card table. With this telescope, you should be able to see the rings of Saturn, the craters of the moon, and other celestial sights. The public is invited to an introductory presentation and "Star Party" on Monday, August 24 at 7:30 pm at the library. The program will start with a slide show on using the Orion telescope, presented by members of the Aldrich Astronomical Society. We will then go outside with telescopes to see what we can see, weather permitting. There will be refreshments and door prizes. To register for the Star Party, go to the Plumb Library's event calendar (www.plumblibrary.com), or call us at 508-763-8600. To see the telescope, just ask!

For their August book, "Just the Facts" Nonfiction Book Discussion Group, will be reading The Boat Who Wouldn't Float by Farley Mowat. The Happy Adventure was a schooner with one fatal flaw: it leaked like a sieve. So why would anyone repeatedly expose himself and his friends to the elements of the North Atlantic and the Newfoundland coast in a treacherous, stubborn, uncomfortable, unfloatable boat which, at last count, has sunk eight times? Farley Mowat, Canadian author of Never Cry Wolf and A Whale for the Killing, has the answer in his funniest story yet. We will discuss this book on Thursday, August 20 at 6:30 pm. Copies are available at the desk.

The Café Parlez' selection for August is The Aviator's Wife by Melanie Benjamin. For much of her life, Anne Morrow has stood in the shadows of those around her, especially her millionaire father and vibrant older sister. Then she meets Colonel Charles Lindbergh, fresh off his solo flight across the Atlantic. The two marry in a headline-making wedding and are then hounded by adoring crowds and an insatiable press. In the years that follow, Anne, despite her own accomplishments as an aviator and an author, is viewed merely as the aviator's wife. We will discuss this novel about Anne Morrow Lindbergh on Thursday, August 27 at 6:30 pm. Books are available at the desk, or bring your own copy.

Plato's Search for the One Thing Needful

The public is invited to the Marion Music Hall on Thursday, August 20 at 7:00 pm for a special lecture, Plato's Search for the One Thing Needful: Why Philosophy Is Important Today, with featured speaker David M. Prentiss. Sponsored by the Sippican Historical Society, the lecture will explore the relevance of ancient thinkers in the modern world. Is it possible to learn anything important from a person who lived nearly 2,500 years ago? Plato is perhaps the most influential – and misunderstood – thinker of all time. Yet at the heart of his wisdom is a very simple insight: Human beings have a deep and permanent need to understand themselves and their world, and this need must always be accounted for in how we live individually and politically. Plato and his teacher, Socrates, understood philosophy as a way of life devoted to seeking this understanding. By seeing how they understood philosophy as an activity rather than as a system of knowledge, we can gain a better understanding of ourselves and the world today.

Dave Prentiss has taught political philosophy as an adjunct professor at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth for 15 years. He is also the President and CEO of the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra and former Board Chair of the Alma del Mar Charter School in New Bedford. He has a B.A. in philosophy from Assumption College, a Master's degree in political science from Boston College, and a J.D. from New England School of Law. His lecture will be presented free of charge, with no reservations required. The Marion Music Hall is located at 164 Front Street, and ample parking is available across the street at Island Wharf. Movie Review

Social Life

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Sullivan's Travels* (1941). Starring Joel McCrea and Veronica Lake. Directed by Preston Sturges. Running time:

When the Oscar-bait movies come rolling in, lamenting life's misery, do they actually help anyone? Not really. Making movies about how crappy life is might gratify the filmmakers, and might please critics and film buffs if the movies are any good, but they seldom if ever effect any change. Documentaries like The Thin Blue Line sometimes do, and occasionally a narrative film like I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang will stir things up. But mostly, movies about the grim dark side are just a stylish wallow meant to impress some unseen teacher, the way we used to show off our earnestness in high-school position papers. They certainly don't do much to help or comfort the people whose tragic lives are reflected onscreen.

Preston Sturges' classic Sullivan's Travels states its welcome thesis very early on, when the pompous director John L. Sullivan (Joel McCrea) voices his desire to make films that comment on social ills and global horrors. The studio bigwigs call him on this immediately — "What do you know about trouble? When was the last time you ate out of a garbage can?" Besides, people know very well how screwed up the world is — they go to the pictures to get away from all that. (Would that these studio execs had been around when all those well-meaning flops about the Iraq War were pitched.)

For whatever reason, Sullivan isn't discouraged; rather, he decides to go out and live the life of a bum, to gain real experience which he can then put into his agonizingly relevant new picture, O Brother, Where Art Thou? Some of what follows is picaresque farce, in keeping with the title's debt to Jonathan Swift. Sullivan meets a wannabe actress (Veronica Lake), who tags along with him during his mostly unsuccessful attempts to get out of Hollywood and onto the road. Lake is pleasantly unassuming — neither a sex bomb nor a wide-eyed ingenue — and she has an easy rapport with McCrea (who reportedly didn't care for her offscreen).

In the third act, Sturges shifts gears into surprisingly stark drama. Presumed dead, Sullivan finds himself serving a six-year sentence at hard labor. The shift isn't hypocritical, though, because the satire remains; we're not really asked to take Sullivan's new suffering seriously, though we feel for the men around him who don't actually have a mansion with a swimming pool back in Hollywood. It all leads to a superb scene at a Negro church, a scene notable for its day for depicting black people as dignified human beings and not just comic relief. (There is, however, a pop-eyed Negro cook earlier in the film, though the fact that he appears in the movie's Hollywood section might be part of the point; out in the real world, Sullivan encounters real black people with real lives.) In this church, where a Disney cartoon is shown to the parishioners and the visiting prisoners, Sullivan realizes that the studio philistines, damn them, have a point.

I often wonder if people who complain about the popularity of movies like Paul Blart Mall Cop 2 during times like this have ever seen Sullivan's Travels. When things suck, people don't want to peel off $10 to go see further proof that things suck. They want to laugh. True, we could wish that the default pressure valves of comedy weren't crap like Pixels. But stupid sight gags are as old as theater, and when Sullivan joins the audience in laughing at Pluto getting stuck to fly paper repeatedly, it's not much different from whatever puerile junk is letting people forget for a couple hours that they got laid off on Christmas Eve and the baby's sick and they don't have health insurance any more. Sullivan's Travels is not remotely a defense of junk, but it does respect comedy as a force for escapism, and it does roll its eyes at would-be makers of Art chasing after prestige and Meaning. And to complete the satirical cycle, it winds up saying something about social ills and world horrors after all.

Get Prehistoric at the Rochester Country Fair

The Rochester Country Fair, located at 65 Pine Street in Rochester, will celebrate its 16th Annual Fair from Thursday, August 13 to Sunday, August 16.

Admission to the Fair is only $4 on Thursday and $5 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Parking is free.

We will be celebrating a "Prehistoric" Theme at the Fair this year.

Events centered around this event will include our Parade which takes place on Sunday, August 16. We tossed around the thought of eliminating the Parade from the Fair's lineup due mostly to police detail costs and participation. However, after polling the opinions of those who attended our Annual Dinner Dance fundraiser, the response was overwhelmingly in favor of continuing the tradition. So we're hoping that spectators will come to line the parade route and the participants will decorate their vehicles and floats with a prehistoric or caveman theme or with articles now considered to be prehistoric by today's standards.

Other "Prehistoric" events include a Dinosaur Dig Hunt, Children's Bam Bam Strong Man Contest, Diaper Derby & Costume Contest. Please call Children's event coordinator Lori Souza at 508-997-9100 if you have any questions about these events.

There will also be "Prehistoric" Photo Contest where participants can pull out old photos. Personal drawings will also be allowed and judged in a separate category. We will also be displaying older objects from the past, like old phones, unique items and antiques from earlier times. We hope the community will contribute to the photo contest and display!

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Avoid adding to the tension around you. Even a well-meant reaction against something you perceive as unfair could be misunderstood. Let things calm down, and then talk about it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time for romance for unattached Bovines, and a good time for reinforcing the bonds between partners. Children's needs are important during the latter part of the week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A compliment from a surprising source sends you wafting way up into the clouds, where -- sorry to say -- your view of what's going on is obscured. Come on down and face some reality.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Even a family-loving person like you sometimes can feel you're at the end of the line with contentious kinfolk. But things can work out. Remember that it's better to talk than walk.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A job-related move might hold more positive surprises than you'd expected. Go into it with confidence, and look for all the advantages it offers. Then decide what you'll do with what you find.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Driving yourself too hard to get something done on a deadline you set up can backfire. Ease into a more realistic finish date, and add more breaks to your work schedule.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your sense of humor can brighten any dark period, and your laughter can dispel those gray clouds swirling around you. The weekend presents a surprising but welcome change.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be careful about the words you use, especially in touchy situations. The old Chinese saying that the spoken word is silver, but the unspoken gold could well apply here.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Some facts could emerge to shed light on unresolved past problems. What you learn also might help explain why a once-warm relationship suddenly cooled down.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Don't let your pride get in the way of checking into what could be a great new opportunity. Get the facts first, and worry about procedure and protocol later.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A health problem in the family might have other relatives assuming that, as before, you'll take over the health-care duties. Surprise them and insist they share in the caretaking.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A series of changes can be unsettling, but in the long run, it can pay off with new perspectives on what you plan to do. Keep your mind open to the possibilities that might well lie ahead.

BORN THIS WEEK: You might be under a "royal" sign, but you have a wonderful way of embracing everyone as an equal.

Marilyn Monroe Matinée Series

The public is invited to enjoy Sippican Historical Society and Marion Council on Aging's summertime collaboration: The Best of Marilyn. Beginning on Tuesday, August 4 and continuing over the following three weeks, the organizations will present a selection of Marilyn Monroe's most popular and acclaimed films.

The 1961 film The Misfits is the third film in the series, to be shown on Tuesday, August 18. It features Monroe as a sensitive divorcée who gets mixed up with modern cowboys roping mustangs in the desert. Directed by John Huston, the film boasts an all-star cast, to include Clark Gable, Montgomery Clift, Eli Wallach and Thelma Ritter. The Misfits was a pioneering work in the development of the American Western - a more contemporary, nuanced take on the genre.

The series wraps up on August 25 with the screening of the legendary comedy Some Like It Hot. The 1959 film co-stars Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon as two musicians on the run from gangsters, masquerading as members of an all-girl band. Produced, directed and co-written by Billy Wilder, the broad farce features Monroe as a simple, singer/ukulele player with a soft spot for saxophone players and men with glasses. Along with Curtis' and Lemmon's dynamic performances, Ms. Monroe's charmingly naïve portrayal helped make Some Like It Hot one of the highest regarded comedies of all time.

Best of Marilyn Matinées will be held in the front room of the Music Hall (164 Front Street in Marion) and offered free of charge to the public. Ample parking is available across the street at Island Wharf. Films begin at 11:00 am, and attendees are encouraged to bring a brown bag lunch to enjoy during the presentation. For more information, contact the SHS at 508-748-1116.

The Baywatchers program is the largest volunteer-based coastal monitoring effort in New England. Through the Baywatchers program, the Coalition monitors all of Buzzards Bay's major rivers, coves and harbors – an area covering more than one-quarter of the Massachusetts coast. The data collected through the Baywatchers program form the foundation of the Coalition's efforts to restore and protect Buzzards Bay.

Baywatchers volunteer approximately one morning per week from May to September at a designated location in their community. Using a water testing kit, Baywatchers collect samples and measure salinity, temperature, water clarity and dissolved oxygen at the site. Baywatchers receive training prior to volunteering and do not need a science background.

If you're interesting in becoming a Baywatcher, contact Director of Monitoring Programs Tony Williams at 508-999-6363 ext. 203 or williams@savebuzzardsbay.org. For more information about the Baywatchers program, visit www.savebuzzardsbay.org/baywatchers.
